Hi, this is your Legislative District 8 team, Andrea Katz and Anthony Angelozzi. Along with the esteemed signees below, we would like to introduce you to Janet DiFolco.

Janet is running for State Senate because she knows that South Jersey families are struggling. From inflation to high gas prices, Janet’s family feels the same crunch that we do, and she is running to do something about it. Janet is part of a household of public service, including her husband, former Democratic Mt Holly Mayor Rich DiFolco.

As a mom of 2, her background in the local PTA taught her the need to fight for our kids and be a tenacious advocate for our public schools. That's why she ran for school board in Mount Holly and has served faithfully for the last ten years. She will fight for Burlington and Atlantic Counties to get our fair share from the state government.

From her position on the school board, Janet has led the fight to ensure that parents and local residents are at the forefront of education decisions, not politicians from Trenton and Washington.

Janet is a citizen, not a politician. She has a deep perseverance and undaunted spirit as she overcomes the obstacles of living with multiple sclerosis, and her tenacity empowers others battling to survive their own healthcare complications.

Janet is a former Republican who has watched in horror for a long time as her party grew more and more extreme while they celebrated the end of Roe v. Wade and passed draconian new state laws that curb the right to choose across the country. The last straw for Janet was when virtually every major candidate for the Republican party endorsed a national ban on abortion, which would impact women all across South Jersey. She knew she could no longer sit on the sidelines as the future of our region and our state is being threatened by MAGA extremists.

Janet supports:

- Respecting the reproductive rights of women and stopping the Republican attacks on basic women’s health care
- Roll back and suspend gas taxes to bring relief to our affordability crisis
- Making sure parents make education decisions for our children, not Washington or Trenton
- Enacting a 50% property tax cut for South Jersey seniors
- Cutting the state income tax for middle-class families by 50%
- Freezing government spending at the current funding level

This will be one of the most watched contests in the entire state, and Janet is the right candidate to beat gas-tax-raising Latham Tiver, who will answer only to his tax-happy bosses and not to you and me.

Janet is a mom, an advocate, and a survivor. We need her to represent us in the State Senate.

WE FULLY ENDORSE JANET DIFOLCO FOR THE STATE SENATE AND ASK FOR YOUR SUPPORT FOR HER CANDIDACY.

Assemblywoman Carol Murphy, District 7

Assemblyman Herb Conaway, District 7

Andrea Katz, District 8 Assembly Candidate

Anthony Angelozzi, District 8 Assembly Candidate

Burlington County Commissioner Allison Eckel

Atlantic County Democratic Committee Chairman Michael Suleiman